Facing the Cross of Suffering

"For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God."

It's Easter time again; a time when we face the cross of suffering that Jesus endured and contemplate what great love God has for His creation. Suffering is relative. What I call "suffering" you may not. What I may have a hard time living with, you may not and vice versa. But what is not open to opinion is that all of us, Christian or not will face a good share of suffering in this life. It may be sickness, injury, the death of loved ones, the loss of our job or financial stability, whatever it may be, we will face suffering at one time or another. We also know that because we are Christians, our suffering will be even more challenging, because not only do we have to deal with the physical, emotion and material sufferings of this world, we must also face sufferings brought on by the spiritual world. We will be hated and persecuted by our unbelieving brothers and sisters in the name of whatever belief system they hold, simply because we love Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and because they have rejected the truth. And if that's not enough, we will be under constant attack from Satan and his demons for exactly the same reasons too. You see, Satan already has all the unbelievers right where he wants them. But that is not enough for him. He wants you and I under his control as well. And to that end, he attacks us with everything he has in his power in the form of every evil temptation and desire. He wants us to reject the truth and submit to him and he wants us dead. That is quite a bit for any one person to face.

Yet let me remind you here and now that Jesus faced the same suffering I just described from both man and Satan. How blessed we are to have a God who knows what we go through and the suffering we face and experience because He face it and experienced it Himself in the flesh of Jesus Christ. He understands how hard it is to push past our human emotions and deficiencies and stand on our faith through all our sufferings. And not only does He understand our suffering, He did something about it. He sacrificed Himself for us on the cross, taking away our sin and guilt, and nullifying sin, Satan, death and hell with His death and resurrection.

I said earlier that suffering was relative. Jesus faced all of our sufferings in His human nature and experienced them in the same way that we do. Then He took His suffering to an enormously greater level; one that we can never know. He took upon Himself the sins of the world; a task only He could have done. He was forsaken by the Father on the cross; He was crucified with all the hatred of man and in the awesome wrath of God. There is no suffering greater than that which Jesus faced and experienced, and even in relative terms, our suffering was nothing compared to His. Unless we lose our faith, we will never know that kind suffering, thank God!

Even more than that, St. Paul reminds us that the sufferings we experience aren't even worth comparing to the glory that is to be revealed to us. Paul is speaking of the joys of the heavenly kingdom; of being in the presence of God forever. St. Paul says all creation eagerly awaits the revealing of the sons of God; meaning the events of the Last Day when the wheat and chaff are separated and believers will face no more suffering forever, and unbelievers will face indescribable suffering for all eternity. In facing the cross, suffering, persecution will come. When it does, cling to God words of blessed assurance and promise to us, "But the one that endures to the end will be saved. Be faithful unto death and I will give you the crown of life." God bless you all! -Pastor Dupre

HOLY HUMOR

Too Much Praise

A Christian guy named Bill saw an ad online for a Christian horse, so he went to check it out. The horse's owner said, "It's easy to ride him. Just say 'Praise the Lord!' to make him go and 'Amen!' to make him stop." <BR> <BR> Bill got on the horse and said, "Praise the Lord!" Sure enough, the horse started to walk. "Praise the Lord!" he said again, and the horse began to trot. "Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord!" he yelled, and the horse broke into a gallop. Bill was enjoying his ride so much that he almost didn't notice the cliff he and the horse were about to go over. Bill shouted "AMEN!" at the top of his lungs, and the horse stopped right at the edge of the cliff.<BR> <BR> Relieved, Bill said, "Phew! Praise the Lord!"

Poem

I've learned that people will forget what you said,
people will forget what you did,

how you made them feel.
