“What is Important”

“ I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit-just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call---one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.” – Ephesians 4:1-6

October is here; the month when we celebrate the Reformation. This is a great opportunity to speak to you about what is and isn't important when it comes to worship. The text above talks about maintaining unity; about remaining one in Spirit and in faith with allegiance to THE one God. It tells us to always focus on the main thing; what we have in common; namely our love for and faith in Christ as Lord and Savior. And it tells us to be patient, humble and gentle; to bear with one another in love. These were Paul's words of wisdom to the church at Ephesus, but he could have just as easily been talking to the church at the corner of 8 mile and Middlebelt.

We are always in danger of thinking that the way we worship in our congregation is the ONLY right way to worship, and that every other congregation, whether LCMS or not, have somehow gotten it wrong. But scripture tells us what God pleasing worship is so that there is no misunderstanding. God's Word must be taught and preached in its purity. The distinction between and proper use of Law and Gospel must be maintained. Worship must be Christ-centered. We are to worship from the heart in humility and with reverence to the Triune God, with songs and instruments, with voices raised and hands lifted; or with hands folded with silence in traditional liturgy as well. We all have preferences but the style of worship just doesn't matter as long as our worship is from the heart, Christ centered, with God's Word and Sacraments, practiced in good order and led by the one God has ordained to lead.

And the one that God has chosen for that purpose must remain set apart, not lording over his congregation, but remembering the sanctity of the divine office and behaving in accordance.

Paul tells us in no uncertain terms that we as Christians are one in faith. He is telling us to focus on that one unique commonality; that Christ has come into the world to die for our sins; that salvation is given by grace through faith in Christ; that grace is indeed for all; and we desire for people who do not know Christ to come to know Him and receive His forgiveness by faith in Him. But instead of united in Christ, we're too often divided by our own personal definitions of what worship is and isn't; Yes even here in the LCMS. We're divided by our preferences instead of submitting to the truth that ALL Christ-centered praise and prayer, with the elements listed above, are worship. We must come to the truth that our LCMS neighbors worshipping God, the Father Son and Holy Spirit, in a different manner than we do; with different songs or different hymnals, makes them no less Lutheran than we are. They are not wrong, merely different.

God bless you all! –Pastor Dupre

To our SOTC family;

Thank you for all the cards, gifts, kindness, sympathy, compassion and support you gave to us at the time we needed it most, at the time of the deaths of our great nephew and our mother. Your expression of love was overwhelming and greatly appreciated. Thank you and God's blessings to you all.
